

Between Prague and Cairo

100 years of Czech Egyptology

This year a century has passed since the first lectures in Egyptology, which associate professor František Lexa held at Charles University in the summer semester of 1919. Czech Egyptology has made giant strides forward since then, and the Czech Institute of Egyptology of the Faculty of Arts, Charles University, the only institution of its kind in the Czech Republic, commemorated the anniversary of this journey with an exhibition organized in cooperation with Charles University on the exhibition premises of the Carolinum in Prague.
